

---

Contents

Introduction	7
1. Self-Assessment	9
What does self-assessment look like?	9
How does self-assessment support student learning?	10
How does self-assessment support teachers?	11
Pause-and-Think activities	12
Phrases and Prompts	12
Margin Symbols	14
Reflection Cards	17
Look-for-Proof activities	19
Proof Cards	20
Before-and-After Proof	23
Personal Records	26
Connect-to-Criteria activities	29
Met/Not Yet Met	29
Sample Match	32
Performance Grid	34
Acronyms	37
2. Goal-Setting	39
What is goal-setting?	39
What are short-term goals?	39
Adding a Line	40
Highlighting Criteria	42

What are long-term goals?	43
Breaking It Down	43
Planning Frames	45
Asking Questions	47
3. Questions and Responses	49
How can I fit self-assessment and goal-setting into my already busy schedule? /49 Students don't take self-assessment seriously; how can I change that? /49 What is the difference between self-assessment and self-evaluation? /50 How do you use students' self-assessment information in relation to letter grades? /51 Why should I set goals? /51 What happens if a student's self-assessment is different from my assessment? /52 Can't I have goals for my students? /52 Isn't it your job as teacher to do the assessing? /53
Conclusion	55
Appendix: Blackline Masters	57
Bibliography	67